Mothers March Against Polio Here

O'Brien Resigns From Committee

Attorney William J. O'Brien Jr. resigned from the Arlington School Committee in a letter to James J. Golden, Town Clerk, Monday.

O'Brien, a supporter of the campaign for open school committee meetings, resigned because his "professional activities have been centered in Washington, D. C. for the past few months and he expects them to be so centered for the next few months."

He had one more year to serve in his current term.

The resignation leaves a one year vacancy on the Board. The place will be filled in the Town Elections March 5. Two men have already signified their intention to seek the one year term.

Among his objectives that he believes one day will be effectuated are:

1. A program of promoting wherever possible from within the school system by advertising fully all promotional opportunities among Arlington school employees and by encouraging all employees within the system to make application for promotion when they believe themselves qualified by training and experience for particular vacancies as they occur.

2. An acknowledged hiring policy for new teachers that favors those who have been and who are Arlington residents, since among this group will be found those who know and understand best, the Town's traditions and those whose rent or taxes have supported the Arlington School System.

3. The elimination of the School System's present hiring policy that favors "teacher's college" graduates over graduates of equally high standing and who have all necessary education courses when such students have been educated at colleges such as Radcliffe, Boston University, Regis, Boston College, Simmons, Harvard, Tufts, Emmanuel, Brandeis.

The Arlington Mothers' March on Polio, under co-chairmen Mrs. Spencer Dormitzer and Mrs. Raymond McKeever, will be held Sunday afternoon, Jan. 29, between the hours of two and four.

The slogan of the Mothers March this year is "Open your door between the hours of two and four." Over 700 ladies will participate.

The 700 volunteers will be directed by captains in the various precincts. They are: Prec. 1, Mrs. Velma Brown; Prec. 2, Mrs. Beatrice Rogers; Prec. 3, Mrs. Mary Richardson; Prec. 4, Mrs. Ruth Birtwell; Prec. 5, Mrs. Carrie Scribner; Prec. 6, Mrs. Hugh Mallon; Prec. 7, Mrs. Jack Stauss; Prec. 8, Mrs. Mary Donovan; Prec. 9, Mrs. Effie Kirkpatrick; Prec. 10, Mrs. Barbara Nelson and Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson; Prec. 11, Mrs. James F. Donovan; Prec. 12, Mrs. Spencer Dormitzer; Prec. 13, Mrs. Henry Scipione; Prec. 14, Mrs. Caroline Corcoran.

Volunteers are still needed, leaders say. Volunteers may call any of the following three telephone numbers: MI 3-6491, MI 8-2653, MI 3-2153.

The drive will start at 2 p.m. with the ringing of church bells. The Arlington Auxiliary Police, whose major service activity has been the Arlington March of Dimes, will also participate by helping collect money and assemble it at headquarters. The Civil Defense ham radio network will again cover the town with their radio cars in an effort to expedite the March.

In the past several years, Arlington's Mother's March has been among the most successful in the country. The Arlington co-chairmen hope that again this year, because of vast increase in polio, it will be even a greater success. Donations also may be made at the Dimes Headquarters at 9 Mystic st.

Water Survey Exposes Previous Fire Hazards

The water survey report compiled by Francis N. O'Hara, superintendent of public works, and Fire Chief Thomas H. Egan after the Crosby school fire, has been published.

The comprehensive report covers details of water pressure, hydrants, pipes which need to be cleaned, and so forth. One of the most startling bits of information concerns the hydrant system.

The report shows that, prior to the Crosby fire, several public places were existing from day to day.

Church In Danger

St. Jerome's church, for example, could have burned to the ground if a fire started there.

Of the four hydrants in the Lake street area, two were obsolete and very difficult to open, one could not be operated, and one could not even be opened.

The hydrant at St. Agnes school was not operating effectively.

Hydrants near the high school could not be operated.

And so it went all over the Town. Hydrants were leaking. Others could not be opened. Still others would not drain. Some, when opened, spewed water straight into the air, not through the hose.

Of the 1200 fire hydrants in the Town, more than 100, many in key spots, were substandard and could not be fitted by standard hose.

As for water mains, the situation was deplorable prior to the report. The program of cleaning, relaying, and new installations will go on for at least a period of five years.

The report and current improvements recommended by it are a direct result of the Crosby school fire. It was a blessing in disguise.

Selectmen Seek Route 3 Maps

The Board of Selectmen have written to the State Commissioner of Public Works requesting copies of the aerial survey of the Morningside area.

This survey was to be ready before Feb. 1 and pertains to possible sites of Route 3.

The Board's letter follows a meeting with the Mystic Improvement Ass'n last week.

Up to the minute information was given by Chairman Franklin W. Hurd, Selectmen Harris and Rawson to the group.

It was explained that unless the present legislature granted funds to Commissioner Volpe, no work could be started on construction of Route 3 from Burlington to Medford.

Further explanations of the state plans said that the Arlington Board of Selectmen had presented alternate plans to Volpe that would cost $1,000,000 less than the present state plan.

The alternate plans will be studied by state engineers from the aerial survey made and further conferences will be requested by Arlington officials with state authorities.

LAST CALL

The deadline for all candidates to file nomination papers for election or re-election for all Town offices, including Town Meeting members, is next Monday, Jan. 30, at 5 p.m. The place to obtain and file nomination papers is the Town Clerks' office.

DIVISION?

Arithmetic division took the forefront this week—Because of the peculiarities of the calendar year of 1956, Town employees will receive pay checks 53 times during the year, instead of the usual 52.

Thus, if a man's annual salary is $3120 per year (or $60 per week) his weekly pay for the 53 periods will be slightly over $58.86 per week—a difference of about $1.14 per week.

Because of this difference, 10 registered voters have filed a warrant article to make up this apparent, but not actual, weekly loss.

Board Asks Raise

The Personnel Board, which has recommended a $208 across-the-board raise for Town employees is composed of five members under the Town Manager Act. The vote of the Board on the matter was taken on Jan. 13 and 17, it is reported.

The Moderator appoints the five, "two of whom shall be town employees from two different departments . . . and who are nominees of the majority of the employees." All members shall be "citizens and registered voters."

Chairman of the Board is Arthur Mansfield who has been confined at Symmes hospital for several weeks.

The two Town employee representatives are Patrick F. Redd and Warren E. O'Leary.

The remaining members, representing the citizens of the town, include Hugh R. Harrington and the late Samuel R. Carlisle, who passed away suddenly in Florida last week where he was recuperating from an extended illness.

Blanket $208 Raise Asked By The Personnel Board

'56 Warrant Has 91 Articles

The annual Warrant before the Town Meeting will contain 91 articles, it was announced by the Board of Selectmen. Last year's Warrant contained 97 articles which, it is understood, was a new record.

Asks Blanket $208

Of major interest will be Article 22 which will ask $208 for an annual pay boost to all Town employees and full-time officials. It would be an across-the-board boost.

It is estimated that the cost, if the raise is voted, will be $115,000 a year. The article is approved and submitted by the Personnel Board.

Last year a blanket raise was given all employees from Grades I to XVII of $104. This left out the so-called upper echelon.

The "men in blue" — firefighters and patrolmen — were also given a $220.50 pay boost, making a total of $324.50 for police and firemen.

Also, last year, the two cost of living bonuses were made permanent.

In 1955, there were over a dozen raises given specific employees. Also secretaries and stenographers in the Town Hall were given pay raises.

Sweeping Changes

The Personnel Board will recommend sweeping changes in classifications, it is understood.

These changes do not involve money, it is said. The changes advocated will subdivide to a far greater degree.

Under them, manual labor and clerical help will be segregated. Under the present system, two remote jobs — such as operator of a vehicle and an office worker — might be in the same classification grade.

PAY RAISES

The Personnel Board has approved only one article in the annual Warrant for pay raises — a $208 across-the-board boost for all employees and full-time officials.

However, there are several more separate articles filed by "at least 10 registered voters" or elected boards, asking for raises in specific jobs.

These include:

—By the Selectmen, a $909.50 annual raise for the traffic signal man from Grade 17 to 20, and his assistant, Grade 8 to 10.

—By the Selectmen, a $462.52 raise for a motor equipment and radio repairman from Gr. 14 to 17.

—By 10 registered voters, for a total of $2,072 for various Library employees.

—By 10 registered voters, to make up difference of weekly pay, divided by usual 52 weeks, rather than the 53 weeks for 1956.

—By 10 registered voters, to raise a Public Works foreman from Gr. 15 to 17.

—By 10 registered voters, to elevate skilled men from Gr. 11 to 15.

—By 10 registered voters, to raise the gas inspector from Gr. 47 to 21.

—By 10 registered voters, to raise the storekeeper and timekeeper from Gr. 11 to 15.

—By 10 registered voters, to ask for a $250 across-the-board increase if the Personnel Board's recommendation of $208 should fail.

Kenna Seeks School Committee Vacancy

Thomas D. Kenna, Jr., who had previously announced his candidacy for a three year term on the school committee, yesterday announced that he will seek election to fill the one year vacancy created by the resignation of William O'Brien, Jr.

Kenna's decision to switch from the three year race to the one year fight makes it necessary for him to take out new papers and obtain signatures again.

50 Ideas For School Economy

(From Architectural Forum, October, 1953)

1. Combine small school districts into larger ones, or arrange for joint action, so the building program can avail itself of existing and new buildings in a more efficient pattern.
2. Abandon the too small high school. Turn it into an elementary or intermediate school, build only fully equipped new high schools, centrally located, serving a wider area.
3. Re-examine school schedules for full utilization of the building.
4. Stop department heads from demanding overspecialized space.
5. Re-examine educational dogmas that lead to building waste.
6. Plan the school for evening use and use it over the whole year.
7. Acquire land early. Get state aid in holding it for the school district which has inadequate funds of its own.
8. Prevent slow processing which allows land speculation to take place between the time a site is named and the time it is actually bought.
9. Make early contact with land developers creating new developments. Convince them how important the school is to them, get them to cooperate in setting apart good sites. Otherwise use legislative or planning powers.
10. Try lease-sale arrangements whereby the builder puts up the school—but only with schoolboard retaining every control.
11. Make the school part of a correlated civic plan—so the cost of auditoriums, gymnasiums, playing fields, etc., can be shared and waste cut down.
12. Make joint arrangements with the park board so there is a joint use of land for school recreation areas and park.
13. Go through the existing school listing every part that contributes nothing direct to education—cupolas, parapets, columns, fancy touches.
14. Build no basement if you can avoid it.
15. Build no upper floors if they can be avoided. Remember, fire-safety requirements make them more expensive.
16. Use the out-of-doors for all possible learning, including nature study.
17. Use the unbuilt out-of-doors for all possible sports. It may be cheaper than an over-elaborate gymnasium.
18. Where possible build sport facilities which require only a wall and no roof, or roof and no walls.
19. Remember not all classrooms need be bounded tightly with four walls. Adapt such public space as cafeterias so corners can be used for teaching.
20. Look at your corridors. Used only for passage they are largely waste. Get multi-use by incorporating corridors with the classroom as alcoves or adjuncts.
21. Eliminate the corridor if you can. Doors from room to room are serving some elementary schools well.
22. Think twice about your proposed cafeteria. Modern food serving may make it unnecessary.
23. Think twice about the tremendous gym. It is primarily for the school or for spectators of the team? A smaller one may serve every educational need.

21. Teenage Meeting — Dave Appell

24. Consider several smaller gyms. Four small ones cost less than one immense one.
25. Beware, however, of overdoing "multi-purpose" planning. If its dual use as a gym knocks out proper use of the auditorium, economy is false in operation.
26. Look out for that vastly oversized heating plant, designed for the coldest night of the year, at 4 a.m. when nobody is in school.
27. Be sure your engineer is using the less extreme values given for "design temperature" in the newest ASHVE handbook.
28. Remember the main problem is not heating but cooling. And that climate control allows use of the sun to help heating.
29. Examine whether your state needs that elaborate school code, piling up costs through rigid regulations. Connecticut and Texas are making fine progress with none.
30. In any case get your state off the list of those insisting on statutory codes; they are sheer cost-raising nonsense.
31. Demand performance codes in schoolbuilding if any. They prescribed what is to be effected but leave invention and imagination free to find more economical ways how.
32. Demand that your city abandon silly local codes which multiply confusion. Get adherence to those national codes which result in standardization, an important source of cost savings.
33. Get your state governor to call a meeting with architects and fire marshals, to comb out the nonsense likely to be found in most fire marshal regulations.
34. Make sure whether fire regulations are figured to save the building or to save the children. Some regulations merely save the shell, like a stove whose contents have been burned clean.
35. Insist that money-saving structure which protects children fully be permitted. There is criminal folly in state codes that forbid the well-planned wooden one-story school.
36. Demand that insurance companies give credit for safeties deriving from new invention. There is no excuse for charging the same rates for all of today's schools as for yesterday's.
37. Look to sprinkler systems as an inexpensive method of protecting children.
38. Avoid the "economy" trap of the stock plan. Only 10 states now have them and 12 states have already abandoned them. They produce schools that are never really good, never really cheap to operate and maintain.
39. Back every move toward dimensional standardization, whether by AIA, BRAB, ASA, or any other research organization.
40. Seek standardization of parts over a large number of schools—stock doors, window sash, etc., that can be bought cheaper in big quantity.
41. Try if possible to get several schools using the same stock parts bid at once to obtain the economies of quantity purchase.
42. Avoid standardized thinking, however, by architects or engineers. A man who has done large numbers of schools may have high merit or may have had only stock ideas, which are always expensive.
43. Choose professional help with care. The fact that schools have risen in cost less than any other building type is due primarily to architects, educational consultants and engineers with imagination.
44. Avoid the false economy of getting cheap professional help or dispensing with it altogether. No plan can fly that has not had the benefit of science; and the flight of education is vastly more important, more complex.
45. Try occasionally taking in a young architect or an architect who has done no schools. His ideas will be fresh, and you can avoid paying for mistakes by getting him to associate with a more experienced man.
46. Remember, in no field of schoolhouse construction is imagination more important today than in the financing.
47. Watch the bond market like hungry hawks. The difference between 2% interest and 3% interest is something like 20% of the cost of the building.
48. Do not feel confined to the bonded debt limit. Work with all other good men to get it lifted. It was humanly made, and long ago for an earlier condition now nonexistent.
49. Investigate the various new methods of lease-purchase if you cannot get out from under the bond limitation.
50. Remember our children are the purest gold we have, and no economy is real that tarnishes their chance for a magnificent future. The future of these children is America's future.

Cost Studied
To Heat Hall,
And Addition

An informal estimate on cost of modern heating for the Town Hall and the new Addition has been obtained by Manager Monahan.

The total is $123,000. At present, the heat for the addition stems from the boilers in the original building. During the severe cold snap in December, offices in the new section were cold while those in the old were sweltering.

Irregular Heat
At the special Town Meeting this month, one member asked the Moderator to open the doors off the side corridors, complaining that it was "stifling hot."

A breakdown of the cost includes $40,000 for new boilers; $18,000 for better ventilation and heating of the auditorium; $65,000 for complete removal of all the present pipes and replacement by a heating system for uniform heat.

—Hartley Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gillette H. Noble of 4 Field rd., who was stricken with polio last summer, is now home from the Haynes Memorial Hospital. He had been a patient there for four months.

INVESTIGATE!

To the Editor:
Melancholy strains of dissatisfaction and concern, commencing annually in recent years, are rustling throughout our town once more.

This annual problem concerns the lack of candidates for the very important position of Town Meeting Members. The mere existence of this lethargic condition is a point of uttermost concern.

The office of Town Meeting member does not receive the wide publicity that is afforded other public posts. Yet, it affects directly each taxpayer in the town, for the outcome of the Town Meeting eventually determines our tax rate.

How the tax rates are determined!!! But before we can ascertain where the blame should lie, let us stop and take stock.

Do you know your Town Meeting members? Do you know your precinct number? Do you know how these above mentioned members voted on the issues which vitally concern you? If you can answer these inquiries with an honest "yes" you are an observant citizen indeed.

Unfortunately, affirmative answers are not in the majority. But there is a successful answer to this problem. Those of you who are simply interested in good government for Arlington are basically potential material for this office.

This office should be held by such people, and not those who aspire to the "higher" offices and are using the position as a political stepping stone.

Investigate!!! Learn who your Town Meeting members are, their records of attendance, and how they voted on the various issues. Then if you are dissatisfied take positive action. Campaign for office!

Petition your name to be placed on the ballot and work hard to achieve victory, a personal victory for yourself which will result in ultimate victory for your town by means of honest and intelligent voting.

Former F. of D. Star Appears in Boston

Genevieve Crovo, known as Genevieve Owens on the musical comedy stage is appearing nightly for two weeks at Steubens Vienna Room in Boston Jan. 19, Feb. 1.

Miss Owens who was with Rodgers and Hammerstein in "South Pacific" and "Oklahoma" first began as "Julie Jordan" in "Carousel" with the Friends of the Drama.

She is now under contract for the new Frank Loesser musical "The Most Happy Fella" which will have its pre-broadway run on March 14 at the Shubert Theatre in Boston.

GENEVIEVE CROVO

Still quite thrilled with it all she returns to the F. of D. club house to see her old friends and wish them well when she can.

Her busy schedule denies her the chance to participate but she loves to watch others work and encourages people with fine talent such as Kay Currier whose versatility shines through her characterization of "Bloody Mary" in the forthcoming production of "South Pacific" at the Arlington Friends.

Karol Kostka will portray "Emile De Becque" the handsome French planter with Dorothy Pigott in the role of "Nellie Forbush".

After her engagement at Steubens, Miss Owens will return to New York for six weeks of rehearsals prior to the Boston preview in March.

With Banquet At St. James Hall Pack 13 To Mark 10th Birthday

On Feb. 4, at 6:30 p.m. in St. James school hall, Cub Pack 13 sponsored by St. James church, will hold a banquet to celebrate the tenth anniversary of its charter.

The names of 31 boys were inscribed on that charter. With the exception of a few who chose to serve their country before going in for higher education, practically all are pursuing a college education.

92 Now Listed Today, a group of 92 boys are listed on the Pack charter and are giving every indication of continuing the traditions handed down to them by their predecessors.

Under the leadership of its first and only cubmaster, George Lemos, Pack 13 has distinguished itself by its many accomplishments.

Its baseball team has always been a contender for the championship of the Arlington Cub Scouts baseball league and in 1952 and 1954 won top honors. Mr. Lemos arranged for the first communion breakfast for his Cubs to which he invited the Cubs and Scouts of the neighborhood in 1947.

Religious Service

In 1951, as part of the annual Scout Week, he invited the Cubs of the other packs in Sachem Council to join Pack 13 in a religious service on Sunday afternoon. The idea caught on and now, each year on Scout Sunday, programs are conducted by Cub Scout packs in Lexington, Waltham, Belmont and Watertown.

The committee in charge of the banquet includes William T. Greene, chair, George Lemos, assist. chair, Earl Foster, tickets, George Falwell, program, Paul Tascini and Roy Castagnetto, entertainment, John Hoar, pub., and Mrs. Grace Kelly, sec.

Obituary

FLORENCE STACKPOLE

Mrs. Florence M. (Gott) Stackpole, sister of Rep. Hollis M. Gott and wife of E. E. Stackpole, died last week at her home in Holyoke.

A former resident of Arlington, she had lived in Holyoke for 28 years.

The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gott, she and her husband celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary last month.

In addition to her husband and Rep. Gott, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Walter C. Kennedy of New York, and Mrs. Edward Baker of Mooresfield, W. Va., a son, Allen D. of Georgetown, Conn., six sisters, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Thursday at the Pleasant St. Congregational Church in Holyoke.

Woman's Club Host To Marion Buttrick

Mrs. Einar T. Larsen, president of the Arlington Woman's Club, opened the recent meeting with an assembly singing of America followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

In memory of three departed members, a memorial poem "At the End of the Road" was read with Mrs. Ralph Hupler at the piano.

Mrs. Albert R. Porteus, second vice-president and Federation Secretary, spoke briefly on Topics and outlined the program of the State Federation meeting to be held Jan. 24 at John Hancock Hall.

Mrs. Joseph Keefe, chairman of the Music Committee, introduced Mr. Richard Giles, baritone, and his accompanist, Mr. George Gilbo. Mr. Giles presented two groups of songs, the opening number of the first group was one of Tennyson's poems set to music, "Break Break Break", concluding with Kipling's poem set to music, "On the Road to Mandalay".

His second group included "Someday" from the Vagabond King, "Soliloquy" from Carousal and "Take Joy Home".

Marion Buttrick, monologist, who was introduced by Mrs. Einar T. Larsen, delighted the members with a variety of monologues and characterizations of three well known and famous plays of James Barrie.

Invited guests were members of the Arlington Chapter of the Protestant Guild for the Blind, Inc., sponsored by United Church Women of Arlington.

In the Art Corners was an outstanding exhibit of copper arranged by Mrs. William H. Dickson, Chairman of the Art Committee. The display was on tables covered with a copper-rose-colored cloth of silk brocade.

On one table there was a graded set of copper tea pots, a copper carafe, copper tea service from Sweden over one hundred years old, seamless pitcher, copper crumb tray with copper-handled brush and two small copper plaques.

On the other table was a brilliant display of hand-made copper in the modern manner. This included trays and bowls of various sizes, sugar scoop in the form of a planter, ornamental sconce and single and triple candle holders.

PLAN BEAN SUPPER

The annual Bean Supper of the St. James Parents Club will be held in the school hall Saturday, Jan. 28 at 6:30 p.m. An orchestra will be on hand to provide entertainment, lead community singing, and play for square dancing, and round dancing.

NOW 20% OFF PANTS - JACKETS OVERCOATS at Stylecraft MEN'S SHOP 8 Medford St.

The Arlington Boys' Club has just completed another successful year of providing "fun with a purpose" for boys of all ages, reports Brud Faulkner, as he prepares the material for his annual report. An average day at the Club House will provide entertainment for 250 boys, he said.

The activities in the club revolve around the physical program according to Faulkner, to understand this we must separate schedules for different age groups.

The Senior game room is set up with equipment for young men between the ages of 16 and 21. There is a new pool table, a ping-pong table, shuffle board, T.V. set and many small tables for chess, checkers, and cards. The young men who frequent in these activities are Frank Shea, Joe Mahoney, Bob Lang, Buzz Beardsley, Denny Morel, Bob Baker and Phil Kuhn. In the Intermediate Game Room (13 thru 15 years inclusive) the equipment is a great deal like the Senior Room.

Boys who are champions in the many tournaments which are held during the year are Bob Maccini, Paul Sullivan, Art Stanley, Roy Roberts, Jack Gass, Bill Richando, Paul Mahoney, Stanley Howard, John Maccini, and Sonny Turro.

In the Midget and Junior Game Room, (8 thru 12), boys who must be considered champions are Bill Kelly, Kenney Brady, Chris Angelo, David Brand, Ronnie Zenga, Brian Stone, Pete Montalto, Jerry Houston, L. Reghetto, C. Schipelletti.

Control Room
The Control Room, candy, tonic, and the like are sold; and games are checked in and out.

The highlight of the main lobby is the T.V. set and lounges.

The Library contains books and 15 magazines.

The Bowling Alleys drew several hundred enthusiastic boys, both in tournaments and in free bowling.

Pin boys for the alleys are volunteers who receive no remuneration except for a party which is given at the end of the year.

Top bowlers last year were Paul Carter, Chris Lewis, John Lewis, Dick Sayers, Art Stanley, Roger Schipelletti, Joe Sullivan and Sam Homen.

Creative Activities
In creative activities the Plaster Molding Class is one of the most popular activities in the Club. The boys do their own molding and painting.

Outstanding in this class last year were Phil Angelou, Richard Hauser, Richard Carino, Don Catalano, Peter Cucchiara, Frank Donahue, John Fahy, Tom Galligan, James Gowell, Bill Martin, and Joe Saunders.

Exceptional work in the Ceramics Room has been done by Steven DeLeo, John Ferro, Paul Ford, Jack Woldren, Dick Salvucci, and Bill Smith.

Cabinet makers, carpenters and other craftsmen of the future are being developed in the wood shop.

Outstanding are Eddie Field, Ed Maher, Bill and Ronn Zenga, Dick Corletto, Augustas Casassa, and Richard Salvucci.

Fishing Class

The Bait Casting and Fly Tying classes, are favorites of many. Ed O'Brien, Jack Young, Al Beaudoin, Jack Keefe, Stuart Beldon, Ted Latty, and Pete Montalto are becoming experts in the art of Bait Casting.

Summer activities consist of two camping programs. One is an over-night camp. The boys are sent to camps in New England for a minimum of two weeks.

The second part of the summer program is Day Camp, perhaps the most popular part of the A.B.C. activities. More than 200 different boys had an opportunity to enjoy the program last summer.

Special Events
Thousands of boys took part in our special events last year. The Halloween Party, Christmas Party, Father and Son Dinner, Small Fry Day, Fishing Derby, Pet Show and Movies are just a few of the many events which are set up to provide recreation for boys in their leisure time.

The Staff is composed of men, women, and junior and senior leaders and volunteers who develop the program and

Arlington Boys' Club Plans Annual Dinner

The Arlington Boys' Club will hold its 12th annual "Father and Son Dinner" Feb. 22. Tickets are now on sale at the Club house.

The event is being planned by Ted Tarr, chairman of the B. C. A. dinner committee, and sponsors of the affair. Voting is now in progress at the club to select the "Good Neighbor" of the year. The Boys' Club works in conjunction with the Arlington Brotherhood Committee in selecting the "Good Neighbor" of the year.

"Gym Boy Awards" will be presented at the dinner to all boys who have successfully passed their tests in the gym.

St. John's Women Hear Mrs. Spengler

Mrs. Kenneth C. Spengler of 189 Jason st., presented a book review at the January meeting of the Women's Guild of St. John's Episcopal church.

Mrs. Spengler reviewed a number of the current books covering a wide range of subjects and also explained the services offered by the Robbins Library of which she is a trustee.

Following the meeting refreshments were served under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Bolles.

Mrs. Alanson Yeaton and Mrs. Stanley Whitman poured.

Golden Age Club

The Golden Age Club met in Library Hall, Jan. 19.

The opening exercises, consisting of the Lord's Prayer and the salute to our flag, were followed by the singing of the Theme Song and "The Bible Tells Me So," with Mrs. Cecelia Fitz at the piano.

The group stood in silence, in tribute to the memory of a charter member and membership chairman, Mrs. Lilla M. Gaudet who died Jan. 16.

Herman Ockenga, president, conducted the meeting. James C. Yule, a member of the Cambridge G. A. C. was the entertainer. Several of his club members were present.

Mr. Yule, a clever magician, proved conclusively, that you can teach an old dog new tricks, as he learned this art after his retirement, three years ago.

The cake he produced from a pan, into which he scrambled an egg, over heat, was eaten during the refreshment period.

Mr. Yule's cousin is Jackie Cooper.

AT GRIPS AT LAST

The Manager, in his letter to the Board of Selectmen last week on the subject of the Russell Common, stated the facts very clearly. He said, in part: "The Town has got to know where it stands regarding use of this land."

We like that word "got". As used, it is not highly recommended by grammarians and purists. On the other hand, there is not a single person, from the third grade up, who does not know what it means—that it expresses necessity and urgency.

There are two sides to the question. They split on the question of timing.

One believes that immediate action be started "to clarify the situation" as to the Town's ownership in the land. This side feels that efforts should be made to clarify the situation, legally, before the Town Meeting, if possible; that the proposal that the area be converted to a metered parking cannot be intelligently discussed, unless the legal status is settled first.

The other feels that if the matter were brought now before the court—to convert the area for public parking—the court could well ask, "Who brings this question in?"

The answer with those who believe for clarification now, could be: the Manager, the Planning Board, the Joint Planning Committee, the Selectmen (if they so voted).

With those who favor deferment, the answer would be the Town Meeting (if it so voted).

Naturally, the latter is the stronger. This is what the Selectmen advocate, after due consideration.

The wiser course is hard to select but at least, after many years, we are on our way of coming to grips with this vital problem.

HEAD-LINES

Time was when actors were about the only customers the wig-makers had, and even from the cheap seats you could tell which thespian had the toupee. But things are different now. It seems as if nobody wears a wig any more.

It seems that way because you can't tell who's wearing a hairpiece and who isn't—even a barber can't tell until he starts investigating. These later models don't skid, people swim in them, sleep in them, and they're hurricane proof. As a style note, we might mention that the latest in hairpieces is the crew-cut!

Our authority is Louis Feder, who has been concerned about human tchance since he was fourteen. His Fifth Avenue firm in New York has covered more than eighty thousand shining pates against the elements and the jibes of the heartless. In fact, Mr. Feder uses the French word for cover, "Tashay" as the name of his custom-made creations. All men, he thinks, are Samsons. When they lose their hair, they are shorn of confidence—until they do something about it. As for the women, they certainly must do something about it since a quarter of a million of them are bald!

Only Think Of It — Beer retails at five cents a glass, and it follows that at our present ratio of consumption, this business of guzzling of beer costs $7.50 per capita to every man, woman and child in the country. An aggregate of $375,000,000, or one fourth more than the total expenses of the United States Government. The total annual expenses of the public schools in the United States is $80,528,000 so that our beer drinking costs 4 1/2 times as much as our public education.

We are glad to know that our Selectmen will oppose in all proper ways and means, the setting up of extensive opposition water works in Arlington. They will receive earnest support from citizens generally.

50 Years Ago This Week

While Dr. Percy was visiting a patient Monday on Gray Street, his horse which is a new and valuable one, became frightened at a passing auto. Although weighted, he ran away, with the canopy top sleigh, down through Rev. Mr. Flister's yard and that of U. G. Rolfe's and finally to Pleasant st. when he was stopped in front of the Taft estate. The horse was considerably bruised. A deep cut was inflicted on his head also one on the leg. The sleigh was smashed so that the loss will be considerable to Dr. Percy.

Sunday morning at 2:20 o'clock, light sleepers were aroused by an alarm of fire pulled in from Box No. 45, located at Hose House No. 2 on Mass. Ave. The fire burned for nearly two hours. The fire was on the premises of Mr. Timothy Ryan at 60 Mt. Vernon st., located in a large barn in the rear of his house. The barn, two horses harnesses, hay, carts, and other contents of the structure were destroyed. The fire was one of the hardest the firemen have had to fight for some time on account of the high wind.

Arlington firemen fought and vanquished two serious fires this week. The first, in the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company's store at 689 Massachusetts ave., broke out early Monday morning in the middle of the snow storm. The second at 15-17 Amherst st., was discovered early yesterday morning.

Mrs. K. C. Spengler Resigns League Post

Mrs. Kenneth C. Spengler, candidate for the Board of Selectmen, resigned from the League of Women Voters this week because of a League policy "that all members refrain from active participation in government."

In a letter to Mrs. Leona R. Wilkins, Mrs. Spengler said:

"Dear Mrs. Wilkins, My candidacy for the office of Selectman is being announced today and I am therefore submitting my resignation from the Board of the League of Women Voters."

"Although I am a non-voting member of your Board, I still feel my resignation is consistent with League policy that all Board members refrain from active participation in government."

"My very sincere appreciation to you and your Board members for the pleasant association I have had in League activities."

Yours truly,

Margaret H. Spengler

That Man About Town

By MAT

As we hear it, there is a move afoot to name the North Union Street school, the "M. Norcross Stratton School." Just where the suggestion is coming from, we can't find out as yet. Mr. Stratton is a long-time School Committee member and also its representative on the building committee of the new school.

Looks like there will be no contest for Assessor. Incumbent "Buzz" Cooledge is unchallenged. About a month ago, it was said that James Wilcox would run but evidently he decided not to — if he really was ever serious.

As we read the cards now, the dust hasn't settled yet in the Selectmen's contest.

The same thing (as to dust) applies to the Moderator contest with Corcoran vs. Stanton. Who is with whom—why, how much, and when?

These questions will be answered soon. We'd like to make only one point: with the vacancy in the office of Moderator, due to Judge Magnusson's decision not to re-run, the races for Selectman and Moderator might become quite interlocked, whether the particular candidates choose or not.

As of this writing, we understand there will be at least 85 articles in the annual Warrant. One will be another pay boost for Town Employees.

We'd like to salute the March of Dimes chairman, Robert E. Mahoney. He is the personification of a fighting spirit. This community should show the same determination to put the Drive over. Open YOUR door next Sunday afternoon!

The inside dope on the new "Citizens Committee for Town Management" is this. It is composed, at present, of many members of the original "Committee for Town Management Form of Government" which successfully brought the Act to Arlington during the referendum in March, 1953. However, the first Committee agreed by vote not to endorse candidates but to promote the principles of "management form". Personally, we've seen little of the latter, even.

Those on the Committee, who believe that candidates who strongly and publicly favor the management form should be endorsed, decided to form a "Citizens" group to take this action. As we hear it, there is no split between the "Committee" and the "Citizens".

It's one of those situations which sounds complicated as the very dickens but isn't. Clear?

LETTERS to the EDITOR

(An Advocate feature in which readers are invited to express their views and opinions. This feature is printed every week to give an indication of the thinking of you, the public.)

To the Editor:

The Moderator of Trinity Baptist church, at our 51st annual meeting this week, instructed me to write to you and thank you for the space that we received in your fine paper during this last year, and for the cooperation that we always experience in dealing with the Advocate.

Hoping that our relations will always be cordial, and wishing you continued success in the fine service you are providing the citizens of the Town of Arlington.

Very sincerely yours,
Francis D. McAuliffe,

To the Editor:

News in last week's paper concerning the Citizens for Town Management is a good healthy sign for Arlington. Alert and interested citizens are always an asset to any community.

With a budget now in the vicinity of 5 million dollars, Arlington's government becomes big business demanding a full time executive or Town Manager to manage its affairs. I would hope that this new committee would give us an evaluation of what the Town Management method of administration has done for Arlington in the past three years; pointing out the shortcomings as well as the benefits.

I am glad to endorse the committee's choice of candidate for Selectman. I have known Mrs. Spengler for many years and I feel sure she can contribute constructive positive thinking to our Town's policy making board.

To the Editor:

Your publication last week of the candidacy of Mrs. Kenneth Spengler for the office of Selectman marks an interesting milestone in Arlington's town elections.

Without any widespread endorsement of "women in politics," her decision to run has more than political ambition for the post of Selectman in itself. She has a sincere desire to continue and improve the town manager administration of the town meeting form of government.

For big towns, this is the proper combination to get things done.

To the Editor:

It is encouraging to see that citizens who favor Town Management in Arlington are supporting a candidate for Selectman.

It has become increasingly clear that the success of a Town Manager in administering the Town's affairs efficiently depends not only upon the cooperation of the Selectmen but on their acceptance of the specified division of responsibility between the Selectmen and the Manager.

I feel sure that a vote for Mrs. Spengler, the candidate of the Citizens for Town Management, will be a vote for a better Town.

Sincerely yours,
Sarah A. Daily

FAVORS HURD

To the Editor:

I note with interest that Franklin W. Hurd, present chairman of the Board of Selectmen, has announced his candidacy for re-election as Selectman.

Selectman Hurd has compiled an enviable record of public service to the people of Arlington in the past six years. During the period in which he served as a member and as Chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners, he was instrumental in the development and improvement of park and recreational areas and the acquisition of new playgrounds for the children of the town.

Since his election to the Board of Selectmen three years ago, he has continued to display the same intense interest in the problems confronting Arlington's citizens. He has been in the forefront in the fight to prevent Route 3 from being brought down through Precincts 11 and 9 and isolating part of this section from the rest of the town.

Selectman Hurd has fought long and vigorously — and now successfully — to replace the outmoded street cars on Massachusetts Avenue with new and modern buses. This has not only improved tremendously the service of the Arlington Heights - Harvard Sq. line but has also provided a more comfortable ride for the many, many Arlington commuters using this line.

Last year the Board of Selectmen — with Frank Hurd as its Chairman — held hearings on and recommended the acceptance of what is probably the largest street construction program in the history of the town. Under the direction of the Town Manager, some of these streets were constructed by town labor and the remainder let out on bid to private contractors. Many of these streets had been awaiting construction for several years. The successful completion of this program on schedule is but one of many examples of the spirit of cooperation existing between the Town Manager and the Board of Selectmen and its Chairman.

Selectman Hurd has shown the same interest and activity in the correction and solution of the countless smaller problems existing all over the town as he has shown in the major ones.

Selectman Hurd, in short, has been consistent and zealous in his efforts to serve the people of Arlington who elected him to the highest office in the town. We are, indeed, fortunate in having a man of his caliber, ability and honesty willing to continue to devote his time and energies in our behalf.

I believe that the citizens of Arlington, recognizing his excellent record of public service, will re-elect Franklin W. Hurd to the Board of Selectmen by a substantial majority.

Very truly yours,
W. B. Houser

On My Oath . . . by Frank Caldwell

Feel lonesome? Depressed? Want fun? Maybe learn something? The inventor's show at Boston's Faneuil Hall is the solution.

Very interesting, especially to me because my Uncle Charlie was an inventor. Uncle Charlie invented the twenty foot pole to use with girls you couldn't touch with a ten foot pole.

As a matter of fact, one of Uncle Charlie's inventions is at the above mentioned show.

It isn't really an invention, it's more of a discovery. On the second floor in the left corner, you will find a table with a fountain pen and a bottle of ink on it.

That's Uncle Charlie's. He discovered that by using a bottle of ink, you could use a fountain pen just like any other pen without filling it.

Uncle Charlie was a barber and always was in close contact with the heads of big corporations. That's where he got many ingenious ideas. He heard one of them mention that he was going to fly to California so he decided to try it himself. After he came out of the hospital he said the next time he went to California he would take a plane.

Naturally there are crackpot inventors. The patent office in Washington has drawings and plans of many impossible ideas.

An uncompromisingly strict prohibitionist had the idea of placing cold towels around the tops of cans of stewed tomatoes. In a short time they would become sober tomatoes.

Another screwball had a new formula for sealing wax. Imagine anyone waxing a ceiling.

There's the new non-electric toaster with the 3 position control. Three positions. Standing up, lying sideways, and jumping up and down while you put the bread in. Comes in three colors, heliotrope, chartreuse, and burnt-toast black.

Some one has asked for a patent on walking nylons. They won't run.

One man, who some day no doubt, will be returned to the booby-hatch, has invented a fool proof method for avoiding mistakes. He places in a bag, one mink coat, one silk vest, and a pair of bloomers. You blindfold yourself and pull out one of the articles. His method, he says, prevents you from pulling a bloomer.

There is a brochure on fourteen ways to kick a man without using the foot. This is for people who wear Coward shoes; a pocket adding machine for fat people who can't count calories; a booklet on refurbishing bombazine bridesmaid's gowns; a necklace of imitation corn kernels for chowder-heads.

But the prize winner of all was the man who worked for 47 years to invent a solvent that would dissolve anything. He finally found the formula and is very happy. I'm just wondering what he's going to keep it in.

TOWN MANAGEMENT FORUM

The action of the Town Manager in writing to the Selectmen urging prompt action to determine the status of the Russell Common is, indeed, commendable.

The recent report of the Joint Planning Committee (Benjamin Report) concerning development of land areas and streets to facilitate expansion and improve Arlington Center for shopping and business purposes lists the use of Russell Common for off-street parking and street development as a priority project. It is highly regarded by other town officials and appears to be a "first order of business" requirement to implementation of the plan.

It is apparent, then, that there should be no delay in determining the status of the Russell Common property and every effort made to acquire it at the earliest date for integration into the development of the business area.

Least there be some doubt as to the necessity for a drastic and imaginative plan to expand and improve Arlington Center, reference to the Assessed value trend should furnish convincing proof. Between 1934 and 1954 the assessed value of the major portion of Arlington Center has increased from $2,230,000 to $2,330,000, or 5 per cent, it is estimated.

During the same period the total assessed valuation of all Arlington real estate increased from $56,000,000 to $68,000,000, or 20 per cent. Had the Center valuation increased proportionately its value now would be greater by some $440,000. This deficiency of $440,000 represents over $6.00 on the current tax rate!

Providing a modern, up-to-date shopping center which will attract substantial retail merchants will increase the tax base of the center and thereby reduce taxes to residential property owners.

Stated in another way—failure to provide a more adequate shopping center, including adequate public parking facilities and better access streets will assuredly continue to throw the overwhelming share of the tax burden on residential property owners.

We are not concerned with fixing the blame for the fact that action has not previously been taken to expand and improve the center. We are concerned, however, with what action is to be taken now.

It is our conviction that the Board of Selectmen, as the elected policy making board of the town is responsible to direct its attention to this important subject. They should determine the important facts on which a decision by the town meeting could authorize immediate action for the first phases of a long-range, well planned development.

The necessary facts are in their hands as a result of the recent report of the Joint Planning Committee and reports rendered by previous committees and agencies conducting studies of the same subject. The favorable action of the town meeting on the recommendations of the Selectmen to develop the Center is imperative to the overall balance and stability of Arlington as a suburban town.

During the period of analyzing the many studies and dividing the proposals into phases, the value of our Town Management form of administration becomes apparent.

Our present Manager, has had many years of experience in town planning. His background, together with his familiarity with construction methods, their costs, and the relative practicability of various approaches to the solution of the many problems involved, make him invaluable as consultant, and advisor to the Selectmen in reaching their decisions.

Of equal importance, is the role of the Town Manager in the implementation of such a plan when approved by the town meeting. The requirement for scheduling of different phases of the work, the integration of town facilities, equipment, and personnel into the program, and the supervision and inspection of the work as it progresses are responsibilities of the manager, as the chief administrative official of the town.

This project of developing Arlington Center is an issue of major concern to every thinking resident, whether or not he is a taxpayer. It points up in bold relief the necessity for a form of administration in town affairs that is equal to the task of meeting the issues with the confidence of judgment and ability acquired through experience.

We have every confidence that this job will be undertaken promptly and effectively.

Arlington Firm Donates I.D. Cards For Children

Plastic identification cards for every schoolboy and girl in Arlington's public and parochial schools were donated to the town last week by Arthur F. Braverman, president of Triomount Plastic Company, 71 Dudley st.

The ID cards, although primarily intended for the identification program within Arlington's overall Civil Defense plans, have a definite, immediate value, according to Lt. Philip Sweeney, CD director. Lt. Sweeney, a member of the Arlington Police Department, noted that the cards will carry the child's name, address, nearest relative, date of birth and religion.

"This information," Lieut. Sweeney declared in accepting Braverman's donation, "will provide fast and important facts about these children in the event that they are hurt in an accident, or lost."

"Naturally," Lieut. Sweeney continued, "as Civil Defense Director I am concerned with the identification problem connected with any possible enemy attack. But as a police officer, I am also concerned with that same identification problem should any other type of disaster occur here in Arlington. Therefore, these thousands of cards serve an important double purpose."

Today's contribution is not the first made by Braverman for Arlington's children. Several years ago he supplied Junior Police badges for the youngsters, which were instrumental in the speedy return of youngsters who wandered away from their homes or playgrounds during the summer months.

Braverman lives in Brookline with his wife, Miriam, and 13-year-old daughter, Helene. He is a member of the Arlington Rotary Club and the Town Bowling League.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

By Herb Mason owner of Mason's Shoes
Arlington
Center

Why don't they make a shoe that will elongate when baby's feet grow?

Such a shoe is now made under patents granted to the Jumping Jack Shoe Company but neither the public nor the shoe retailers were prepared for the introduction of such a radical change when the shoe first appeared on the market in 1944.

One amazingly simple misconception stands between the success and failure of a shoe that will grow. All of us neglect to note that toes do not grow like fingers. Fingers grow more in length than the main body of the hand but the mass of the foot grows six to eight times as much as the toes grow.

If the picture is clear, the reader will agree that to accommodate foot growth the expanding part of the shoe should not be up front but behind the ball of the foot because that is where the major growth occurs.

To permit expansion at the heel the leather under the heel and up the back must be in one continuous piece. That is the process patented by Jumping Jack.

If you can think of another way to make a shoe that will grow, whisper it to me and we'll get rich quick.

AHS Bows To Belmont And Loses GBI Lead

Arlington High's high-riding hockey team tumbled out of first place in the G.B.I. League Friday night when a vastly underrated Belmont sextet pinned a 4-1 upset on the locals.

The loss, coupled with a Melrose win, gave the Red Raiders, beaten by Arlington, top spot in the race once more.

George Limerick scored the lone local marker on a neat assist by Marty Balafer.

It may have been that the Melrose win a week ago took too much out of the Burnsmen or it may have been that Belmont was taken too lightly.

The Arlington squad meets Medford this week before swinging into the playoffs.

AHS Basketeers Down Watertown

The varsity basketball five won its fifth straight yesterday afternoon by beating Newton, 58-45.

Paced by Captain Buzz Beardsley's 21 points, the high school basketball team captured its fourth straight win Friday by downing Watertown 58-54 at Watertown.

Going into yesterday's game with Newton, the locals held undisputed possession of second place in the Suburban League.

The local's lone loss was at the hands of Cambridge Latin, undefeated in five starts. The league leaders take on Arlington tomorrow night at the West.

Against Watertown, Beardsley, Joe Madigan, and Ritchie Crowley were the local standouts.

The locals led 12-10 at the end of the first period, 19-14 at the half, and 47-42 going into the final stanza.

Watertown's zone defense collapsed when Beardsley and Crowley began hitting from outside.

The game was marred by excessive foul calling. A grand total of 54 fouls was called.

The junior varsity five, undefeated in league play, stretched its skein to five by downing their Watertown counterparts, 33-23. Jay Donovan scored 10 points, and Jim Surrence 7.
